Greatest concentration of firefighters in five years battled a forest fire near Lakewood, N. J., where the blaze threatened the resort town's business and main residential section until it was checked. The Lakewood fire, in the New Jersey pine belt, was only one of 145 fires which raged in several eastern states, leaving hundreds homeless and causing great property damage. In this picture, a southern New Jersey home is almost completely ringed by fire as occupants, on road at right, pile belongings into cars to flee to safety. Two-week warm spell had made the forests tinder dry.

INCOME TAXES WILL BE HIKED

Little and Big Alike Will Have To Pay Double Or Triple

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Thousands of taxpayers—little men and big men alike—will have to pay two or three times their present income tax, informed sources predicted today, if congress adopts the treasury program for raising $3,500,000,000 in new federal revenue.

The program, authoritative reports said, carried the following major provisions:
INDIVIDUAL INCOMES—An increase of the present 4.4 per cent rate to 6.6 per cent. Also limitation of the existing 10 per cent earned income credit deduction. Personal exemption rates

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The house ways and means committee voted today to accept as its definite goal the treasury's recommendation for a tax bill to raise $3,500,000,000 in new revenue next fiscal year. At the same time, the committee voted to open public hearings Thursday with Secretary Morgenthau as the first witness.

INCOME SURTAXES—Steepest increases. Whereas surtaxes are now imposed on taxable incomes in excess of $4,000, they would begin with those over $2,000. Present surtaxes range from 4 to 75 per cent and are levied in addition to the basic 4.4 per cent "normal" rate.
CORPORATE INCOMES—An increase from the present 24 per cent to 30 per cent.
TRAVEL—A tax of about 10 per cent on railroad, plane, bus and other transportation tickets.
CHECKS—A 2-cent tax on each check drawn.
GASOLINE—1 cent more, making

JOB PLACEMENTS IN MARCH TOTAL 101

New claims for unemployment compensation increased during March, and job placements made by the Salem Employment Security Center also increased, Manager Johnston reported today.

March placements totaled 101, 48 more than in February. Of this number, 84 were in jobs lasting more than 30 days.

There were 839 workers of all types registered with the Salem Employment Security Center as available for work at the end of March, Johnston said. This number was a decrease of one per cent compared with the February registrant total.

The number of new claims filed during March totaled 81, 11 per cent more than in February.

Unemployed Salem workers were paid $3,948.93 in benefits for 448 weeks of unemployment last month, a decrease of 4.3 per cent under February.

Average check for total unemployment during March was for $9.29, and for partial unemployment, the average weekly check amounted to $4.78.

Benefit payments to unemployed workers by the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation during the first three months of this year total $13,885.65, Johnston revealed.

SENATOR WHEELER TO DEFY WARNING

Advised Not To Speak In Rockford, Ill., By "Americans"

MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), in making public a letter warning him against making a scheduled speech in Rockford, Ill., said today that he had received threatening letters before and would pay no attention to it.

He added that the letter would not prevent him from filing his April 28 engagement at Rockford. The letter, under date April 15, was received at his Washington office and forwarded to him. He is here for an anti-war address tonight.

The letter follows:
"A warning to you as to your scheduled address in this city.
"A number of us citizens have discussed and decided that our city is not disposed to listen to your poisonous anti-Roosevelt, anti-American, traitorous fifth column activities. If you set foot anywhere near here, well, you shall have no one else to blame for what might happen to you and other copperheads trailing you.
"A citizens' committee of 100 per cent Americans."

WARNING SOUNDED ON SPURIOUS COINS

Sheriff George Hayes sounded a warning today for merchants, shopkeepers and others to be on the lookout for spurious coins, mostly quarters and half-dollars.

He received two counterfeit 25-cent pieces today from Negley, where he has begun an investigation. Reports indicate, however, that the coins are being found in other sections of the county.

Police Probe Death

CINCINNATI, April 22.—Police today investigated the death of John Mulvaney, 41, a foreman at the Fostick Machine Tool Co. who died in a scuffle at his home. Corner Frank M. Coppock, Jr. reported. Police said Robert E. Jefferson, 27, a truck driver divorced from the victim's stepdaughter two weeks ago, was held for questioning.

VOTE TODAY ON PATROL BOOST

Senate Acts On Measure To Enlarge State Highway Force

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 22.—A proposed enlargement of the state highway patrol's manpower and authority to supplement the new Ohio state guard was put up for a vote in the Ohio senate today.

The number of patrolmen would be increased from 200 to 300 and they would have power to arrest on a state highway, any motorist or automobile passenger believed to be guilty of a felony.

The patrol's activities now are confined to matters involving traffic or highways, a restriction written into the law at the insistence of organized labor to safeguard strikers.

The patrol bill is designed to give the state additional protection in event of emergencies and dis- orders because the limit of 4,800 men, fixed in the state guard bill, is far short of the 10,000 men who composed the national guard. The national guard is now in federal service at Camp Shelby, Miss.

The state guard measure was made ready for the governor's signature yesterday when the senate concurred in house amendments.

On the house's program today was a bill to bar un-American parties from the ballot. Every political party except the Republicans and Democrats would be required to file with the secretary of state an affidavit disavowing un-American activities.

The senate liquor control committee dumped a hot issue on the senate last night by recommending for passage a bill exempting 32 beer from the local option law. If the measure is enacted, local communities can not prohibit sale of the beverage.

The senate completed enactment of legislation under which an estimated 1,000,000 Ohioans, now without a vote, will be able to vote.

Tents Are Presented To Baptist Boy Scouts

Troop 23, Baptist Boy Scouts, held a covered supper at the church last night for scouts, their parents and the committee members and their wives.

Columbiana County Scout Executive Joseph Moran and Commissioner Eddie Howell of Salem were guests. Troop members were given 10 new pup tents by the committee. Plans were made for a camporee to be held at Lisbon scout reservation late in June.

Entertainment was presented, in charge of Kenneth Groner, patrol leader, taking the form of a scout meeting. Talks were given by Joseph Moran, Commissioner Howell, Rev. S. T. Magann and Fred L. Blevins. James P. Hayden, Donald C. Stirling, Fred L. Blevins, Frank Brudery, L. H. Taylor and Beman G. Ludwig were members of the committee which presented the pup tents to the troop.

MOVES HINTED FOR EXTENDED ARMY SERVICE

Unofficial Reports Say Army May Ask For More Than Year

NATIONAL GUARDS MAY BE INVOLVED

Discussions Heard On Proposed Draft Age Changes, Also

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Acting Chairman Reynolds (D., N. C.) of the senate military committee said today he had heard unofficially that the army might seek legislation to extend selectees' training beyond the basic one-year period.

Two other committee members told of similar reports involving both selectees and national guardsmen.

No Official Information
Senator Connally (D., Texas) informed reporters that a group of national guardsmen had told him they might be held in army camps for more than a year. He added that he had no official information on the subject.

Senator Johnson (D., Colo.) said he had heard reports emanating from army officers that congress would be asked to declare a full state of emergency, under which men in training would be retained until congress declared the emergency ended.

More than 400,000 men chosen under selective service now are being trained at various army camps. The present law provides that the earliest group be released after completing one year of service in November. The national guard's tour of active service likewise was to have been limited to a year.

Army officials have said that there will be no final decision until June on whether selective service men should be held beyond a one-year period.

Discuss Draft Ages
There were general discussions, meanwhile, of whether the draft ages of 21 to 35, inclusive, should be changed. Johnson said he believed the senate committee would approve a change to 18 to 28 and added he personally favored making the limits 18 to 21.

Connally said he did not believe any change should be made until the present emergency is over.

In another field of military affairs, Johnson prepared legislation providing a "bonus" of $100 a month for any person in the land or naval forces who served abroad or who performed convoy or escort duty.

The bonus would be paid to all men and officers in addition to their regular salary.

WARDEN ASKED TO CHECK STRAY DOGS

LISBON, April 22.—County Dog Warden Daniel A. Butch on Monday attended the Signal Community sale, checking upon complaints of Elkrun township residents that dogs brought to the sale from out of state and county and offered for sale, had been turned loose on the country-side by their owners when they failed to dispose of the animals.

Several such complaints have been received and Butch will check into the situation from time to time, although no dogs were noted at the sale yesterday.

Warden Butch calls attention to the dog laws whereby the owner, in selling a dog, must give the buyer a transfer of ownership which shall contain the license number of the dog, a brief description of the dog, and the name of the person selling the dog. Such a certificate may be obtained from the dog license department in the office of County Auditor Ross Tisher. Failure to comply with provisions of the law may result in a fine of from $5 to $25.

Dr. G. A. Roose Winner In Country Club Shoot

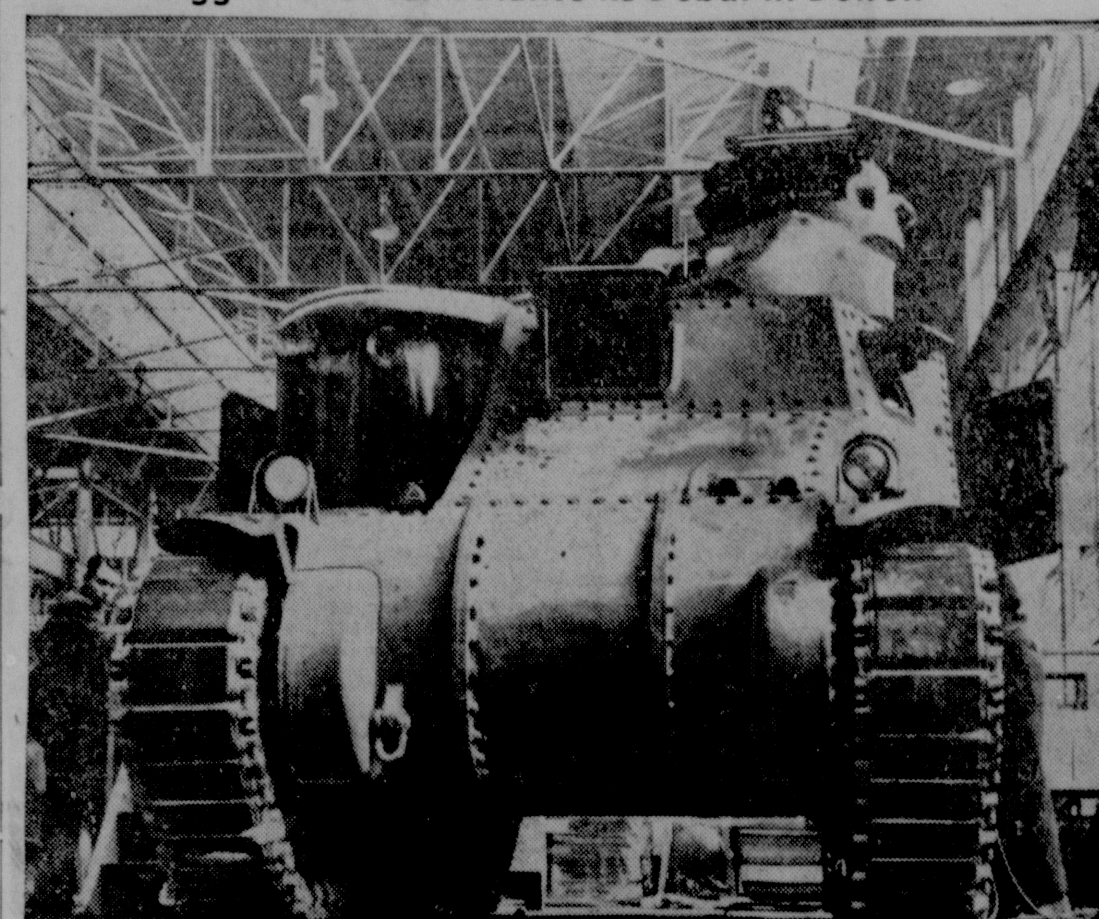

Dr. G. A. Roose, firing a net of 45, won the diamond pin shoot at the Salem Country club Sunday afternoon. The shoot was the first of the current year.

Other scores were registered as follows: George Baillie, 41; Mrs. Roose, 40; C. McAllister, 40; J. Gilmore, 35; O. Rinehart, 34; R. Hamilton, 32.

WELLINGTON, April 22.—A car skidded in a rainstorm and crashed into a tree near here last night, killing Eric Bennett, 59, of Youngstown, and injuring Mrs. Harold Hughes, 25, Bennett's daughter and Lillian Clark, 24, both of Youngstown.

Biggest U. S. Tank Makes Its Debut In Detroit

Called the largest mobile land weapon ever constructed, the new "medium" tank which the Chrysler Motor corporation is going to produce at the mass production rate of 5,000 a year is shown for the first time in Detroit. The 28-ton tank, classified as an M-3 by the U. S. Army, carries a full-sized 75-millimeter cannon for both anti-tank and anti-aircraft use and bristles with machine guns both in fixed positions and in a motor-driven revolving turret. The tank can travel 25 miles an hour and has a cruising range of 100 miles without refueling.

FIRE RAVAGES 100,000 ACRES

Woodlands In 13 States Laid Waste; Property Damage Grows

(By Associated Press)
More than 100,000 acres of woodlands in 13 states were blackened wastes today, and fires still burned through parched forests.

The eastern seaboard bore the brunt of roaring flames that leaped crazily across highways and streams and wrought great damage in New Jersey and Massachusetts.

The Massachusetts executive council, in emergency session last night, closed the Bay State's forests after some 30 major blazes destroyed much timberland and consumed 450 seaside homes at Marshfield.

Parts of New Hampshire, Vermont and Connecticut were also ravaged.

Scattered sections of south and central New Jersey were licked by swiftly-moving fires that burned 42,500 acres in that state and caused property damage of more than $1,000,000.

Eighty Fort Dix soldiers in a detachment of 5,000 assigned to fire duty in New Jersey narrowly escaped yesterday when state fire service airplanes dropped notes charting the way to safety from an encircling ring of fire near Pinehurst.

Fire threatened the United States naval air station at Lakenhurst and the borough of that name, but was repulsed.

Nearly 100 blazes were reported in New York and Pennsylvania.

To the south, 12,000 acres in Maryland still smoldered, and small new blazes sprang up throughout the state. Virginia and West Virginia experienced scores of major fires.

A third of West Virginia's more than 150 conflagrations were being fought by 3,000 men, and State Forester Dan B. Griffin predicted the worst was yet to come.

Tennessee was hit, and in the Carolinas a fire with a front of 94 miles crossed from South to North Carolina into Henderson county, charring some 400 acres.

AIRPLANE CRASH TAKES 2ND VICTIM

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 22.—An airplane crash claimed its second victim today with the death of Morgan McIntyre, Jr., 18-year-old Wellsville high school senior.

McIntyre "hitch-hiked" his first plane ride with Billy J. Giroux, 22-year-old pilot from Gary, Ind., who was killed as his small ship plunged 100 feet into a wheat field at nearby Glasgow last Sunday.

Civil Aeronautics Authority inspectors placed blame with the pilot after viewing wreckage.

Profit and Loss

RICHMOND, Ind.—To oblige a passenger, Taxicab Driver Sherman Parton parked on the wrong side of a downtown street while letting him out. He collected a fare of 25 cents.

In city court, convicted of violating a traffic law, he was assessed a fine of $1 and costs—$11.

COUNTY GROUP TO HAVE HEALTH SHOW

"Goodbye, Mr. Germ," the latest sound motion picture produced by the National Tuberculosis association as part of its health education program, will be shown by the Columbiana County Public Health league at the meeting of the Mile Branch grange, Wednesday, April 24.

The film, largely in animated cartoon style, but with some stage shots, tells the story of the attack of the tuberculosis germ and the defeat it finally suffers at the hands of an alert public and of medical science.

"Tee-Bee," an animated figure, recounts his adventures to a scientist, played by James Kirkwood, from the time he made his way into young Edgar's lung until his final capture in a test tube.

U.S. WAR OBSERVER KILLED IN SUDAN

Col. Gerald Brower With R. A. F.; Details Not Announced

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—A United States military air observer, Col. Gerald Brower, has been killed in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Colonel Brower, attached as an observer to the Royal Air Force in the Middle East, is the first casualty among American military observers assigned to the European war zones.

The state department said a cablegram received today from the American legation in Cairo related that Colonel Brower was killed on Sunday at El Obeid, 250 miles southwest of Khartoum.

The cable gave no details but said the military attaché at Cairo would report them to the war department.

The cablegram from Alexander Kirk, the American minister in Egypt, said:

"It is with profound regret that I inform the department that word has just been received that Colonel Gerald Brower, U. S. military air observer, RAF middle east, was killed on April 21 at El Obeid, 250 miles southwest of Khartoum.
"Details will be furnished the war department by the military attaché to the legation.
"Please convey to members of Colonel Brower's family sincere condolences on my behalf and of members of the legation."

REOPEN COAL NEGOTIATIONS

Southern Operators To Return to New York for Conference

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Southern coal operators, acting at the request of the White House, agreed today to return to New York and reopen negotiations with the United Mine Workers for a contract which would permit resumption of coal production in the Appalachian area bituminous mines.

The decision was announced after a negotiating committee of the southern operators had conferred at the White House with Major Gen. E. M. Watson, presidential secretary.

As spokesman for the committee, L. T. Putnam of Beckley, W. Va., said the negotiations would be only between southern operators and union officials, and that northern operators would not participate.

There was no decision to reopen mines while negotiations are under way.

To a question how long it would be before mines were reopened, Putnam replied:

"That depends entirely on the turn the negotiations take, and on the attitude of John L. Lewis and on our own attitude, as contracting parties."

The negotiating committee of five will leave for New York this afternoon, and will meet with Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, tonight or tomorrow.

Reluctance of southern operators to give up a wage differential has been a primary factor in preventing a complete agreement between Appalachian operators and miners and a reopening of idle soft coal mines. Northern operators have reached an agreement with the union.

MINSTREL SHOW TO BE HELD IN LISBON

LISBON, April 22.—The 17th annual minstrel show of the Lisbon Kiwanis club will be staged in the David Anderson High school auditorium this evening for the benefit of the club's community charities in providing glasses, etc., for needy children.

C. L. Wetzel will preside as inter-locutor. In addition to blackface end men and soloists, the program will include several featured acts, such as the Bell family of nine in novelty acts, the Allison sisters, and the Hyder twins in song and dance specialties.

BLITZ ARMIES CRACK ENDS OF DEFENSE LINE

British Forces of 50,000 To 80,000 Are Out-numbered

Newsman Tells of Giant German Tanks Taking Mountain Passes

(By Associated Press)
Germany's blitzkrieg armies cracked both ends of the Allied line and stormed toward historic Thermopylae pass today—less than 100 miles from Athens—after capturing the Aegean coastal towns of Volos and Lamia, as well as Ionnina in western Greece.

Hitler's high command said Nazi columns had trapped Greek forces retreating from Albania.

Sees Second Dunkerque
Daniel De Luce, an Associated Press correspondent, said in a cabled dispatch from Izmir, Tur-

BERLIN, April 22.—Eastern Greek harbors are packed with ships of all sizes busy moving troops out of the country, DNB, German official news agency, said it has been determined today by Nazi reconnaissance planes.

Motorboats, cutters and small craft of every description are waiting in Piraeus, port of Athens, and other remaining ports for a place at the few undestroyed quays, the news agency said. Roads leading to these ports, it added, are clogged with columns of troops.

The news agency said German air activity was disturbing the British efforts.

key, that when he left Greece three days ago the British were falling back in "a second Dunkerque."

Fighting every inch of the way, De Luce said, the British contingent of only 50,000 to 80,000 men was hopelessly out-numbered and out-gunned.

He said the British were being covered in their retreat by Greek infantrymen who had little or no chance to escape the Nazi steam-roller.

"A fleet of 37-ton German tanks lumbering through mountain defiles—previously believed impassable to such heavy vehicles—light British tanks and crushed them like eggshells," he wrote.

De Luce reported that the British RAF strength in Greece numbered no more than 150 when the invasion started.

British Middle East headquarters reported tersely that British troops falling back from the Mt. Olympus sector in eastern Greece "have now occupied defensive positions south of Lamia."

RULE OF THUMB ON WAR COST

Rule of thumb, which may not jibe with the facts but at least furnishes a starting point, calls for the American people to furnish two out of every three dollars of government money. The third dollar will be written on the books.

In figures, the rule would entail raising $12,667,000,000 during the 12-month period beginning next July 1. This would be set against anticipated expenditures of $19,000,000,000. Because present tax levies promise to produce only $3,223,000,000, President Roosevelt has submitted a proposal to raise $3,500,000,000 more in taxes. Henry Morgenthau, his secretary of treasury, has been advocating this increase for a long time.

All the figures are guesswork. They are probably too low—all, that is, except the $3,500,000,000 and $19,000,000,000, which are probably too high. Congressmen have been talking about raising only $1,500,000,000 in new taxes, being naturally reluctant to break the tragic financial news of national defense suddenly.

Mr. Roosevelt's own budget message, submitted last January, before request was made for $7,000,000,000 of British aid funds plus supplemental defense appropriations, estimated total federal expenditures for the next fiscal year at $17,485,000,000 and total receipts at $8,275,000,000. The office of production management, incidentally, recently listed foreseen defense expenditures alone, for the period from June, 1940, to June, 1942, amounting to $39,178,000,000.

Such disparities suggest what may happen "twixt cup and lip on federal financing. There never has been a national defense that did not cost more than was estimated. Rarely has there been a tax bill, on the other hand, that produced as much as was estimated. William G. McAdoo, President Wilson's secretary of treasury, advocated paying half the cost of American participation in the World War by taxation and ended up by paying less than a third of the cost that way. A year ago, Great Britain aimed at 46 percent of the cost in cash, but succeeded in paying only 36 percent. The cost of war, like the horror, cannot be over-estimated, which is the only rule of thumb that can be trusted.

THE BALM OF HISTORY

Two thousand two hundred and twenty-two years ago the big man on the western side of the Greek peninsula, where the Italians say they now are cutting the Greeks to ribbons, was Pyrrhus, king of Epirus, lying where southern Albania was before Benito Mussolini undertook the restoration of the Roman empire.

Pyrrhus was a fighting fool and crafty as a fox in diplomacy. It was a lucky thing he didn't have more to work with, or he might have set a record that would have discouraged Julius Caesar, Attila the Hun, Napoleon Bonaparte, Adolf Hitler and the other over-ambitious conquerors. One of his secrets was the use of cavalry and elephants, the mechanized divisions of circa 281 B. C. Not even the Romans, who were taking no one's lip in those days, could figure out how to stop Pyrrhus when he started to roll over them on the invitation of Tarentum, in southern Italy.

He almost rolled right into Rome, but one rear guard action after another slowed him down until finally all his enemies, who were numerous, ganged up on him and sent him to the place where all conquerors end up—the ashcan. It was while he was mowing down the Romans at Asculum in Apulia with his mechanized divisions, incidentally, that he made his famous quip, "One more such victory and we are lost." Ever since then, a victory in which the overhead costs get out of control has been called a Pyrrhic victory.

Pyrrhus, who had knocked over plenty of fellow humans in his day, was knocked over himself in a street brawl in 272 B. C. at the age of 46. The terror of his day and neighborhood was gone and no doubt hopefuls of the pre-Christian era thought things would be better from then on—no more needless bloodshed. Perhaps some of the dust, or perhaps mud, being ground under the treads of the clanking tanks on the Greek peninsula is all that's left of Pyrrhus—except, of course, that profound remark about paying too much for victory.

AS ADVERTISED

London has felt the maximum impact of German bombing for the first time since the beginning of the war. Last Wednesday night's raid, reports say, was heavier than any of its predecessors. The sky over the city, according to eye-witnesses, was filled with planes. There were no specific objectives. It was a demolition raid directed against the whole metropolitan area—and a highly successful one.

The raid, Germany let it be known, was in revenge for the recent British raid on Berlin, a fulfillment of Hitler's threat to punish the enemy for fighting fire with fire, so to speak. The next night—Thursday—the British again bombed Berlin. The fact that Herbert Morrison, the minister of home security for Britain, told defense workers new-type bombs were used, capable of doing more damage than the bombs used previously, indicates the government is responding to public clamor for wholesale retaliation.

Years before this war started—when theorists were laying down specifications for the horror and destruction now being carried out—the result of bombing cities was foreseen. At first, both sides would hold back, waiting for the other side to strike the first blow. Once the blow had been struck, subsequent raids would be in revenge for damage done by the enemy. The pretense of bombing military objectives soon would be abandoned. The raids would degenerate into mass slaughter and destruction.

That seems to be exactly what has happened. If the British were able to do it, they would destroy

Berlin as completely as the Germans have destroyed London—not because that would affect the outcome of the war materially, but to get even.

THE TIP ON TIPPING

National Restaurant association crashes through with the mildly startling announcement that customers left $200,000,000 "under the plate" for waitresses and waiters last year. "There's nothing restaurateurs can do about the situation," explains the association, "because our guests feel that tipping is a personal matter between themselves and those who serve their meals."

Just how personal was explained recently in a nationally circulated magazine founded by Benjamin Franklin, in which a waiter gave the lowdown on tricks of his trade. Best way to get tips, confided this hoover-in-the-background, is to convey to the customer that you think he is a heel who must purchase the waiter's respect. There are, of course, customers who tip because they are everlastingly grateful for getting the meal they've paid for—or who just happen to feel generous—but the psychological starting point for tipping is the never-ending urge to appear to good advantage in the eyes of someone else. It is, as the restaurateurs tactfully admit, a personal matter.

FROM THE NEWS FILES

For Wednesday, April 23

A DAY of astrological "mixed influences" may be read from the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects, with some very auspicious conditions offset by sudden upsets, changes and much indecision. It may be difficult to come to definite conclusions as the mind is not only erratic but confused. With much restraint and forethought it may be possible to choose the gainful situation, particularly in all pertaining to public group or social welfare. Be alert to deception. Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a year in which their own vigilance, sagacity and acumen may be responsible for eluding danger and loss through duplicity, treachery and possible sharp practice. The situation may be beset by confusion, while the mentality moves in impetuous or erratic grooves. But public work of any nature should flourish, especially in matters concerning social welfare or humanitarian movements.

A child born on this day should have many original views and talents, while having some confused or eccentric ideas or emotional impulses. Its signal success will be made in public or community work, as its gifts are for social uplift or service. It may have much personal charm and influence.

THIS "FACTORY" DOES BIG JOB

It Turns Out a Million Cells a Minute!

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
I have a doctor friend—who, because of his aversion to publicity shall be nameless—who long ago fell in love with a cell. He fell in love with it for the same reason—we all fall in love with anything because of its beauty in his eyes, of its constant fascination, its many changing aspects. For thirty years, he has been a slave to this passion and one must admit the object of his affections has justified him, because as time has gone on, he has made discovery after discovery, and always the cell has revealed more and more secrets about itself.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The cell is the red cell of the human blood. My friend says it is the most interesting cell in the animal body. It is the most numerous, in the first place, and probably the most necessary. As you see them in the circulating blood, these tiny, shining little messengers go scurrying along to all the other cells of the body, bringing oxygen from the lungs, taking up poison from the tissues and carrying these poisons back to the lungs to be excreted in the expired breath.

Replacing Red Cells
A great many of them get damaged and worn out in the process.

So they have to be replaced. The manufacturing plant for this essential defense industry is the marrow of the bones. Here the red blood cells are born and mature, until they are ready to be thrust out into the bustling life of the circulation. And they must be manufactured in quantity.

One trillion red blood cells must be manufactured in the bone marrow every day.

One billion cells a minute. That is the rate at which this factory must produce them. They last in the circulation about thirty days when they are worn out and go to the scrap heap. Part of the raw materials of which they are composed is used again for replacements of new cells. The important raw material of blood cells is iron, which is a necessary ingredient of the curious chemical substance hemoglobin which does all the work of the red blood cells.

Iron Very Important

About 85 per cent of the iron of the old cells is used again: 15 per cent, which is wasted, must be replaced in our food. This is about 15 milligrams a day and most of our diets are close to the daily lower limit on this. Iron is the raw material for blood cells and, just as in our defense program, is the real bottleneck of production. The foods which contain iron in most abundance are egg yolk, oatmeal, whole wheat bread, beans, peas, spinach, prunes and nuts.

In this industry of blood cell making, a driving force is also needed—an executive, somebody to keep the wheels turning. This is furnished by a chemical manufactured in the wall of the stomach and stored in the liver. It is known to the medical profession as E.M.F. To you, as liver extract.

It is easy to distinguish an anemia which is due to lack of iron from one due to lack of E.M.F. and the treatment for each is self-evident—to supply the missing ingredient. In cases where liver extract is used it is advised to give also a liver "cocktail": equal parts raw (or boiled) liver and tomato juice, with a teaspoonful of yeast extract added.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R.: "Is a surgical operation the only method of relief of hemorrhoids?"

Answer: No; the injection treatment is very satisfactory.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

SYNOPSIS

Captain "Dynamite" Danny O'More, of Sitka, head of one of Alaska's largest herring fisheries, tells Kemp Starbuck, young president of American Packers, that he cannot supply him with his complete catch, as a strange concern, Baranov Packers, has an option to exercise the contract of the late John Bates whereby O'More is to supply his fish to them. The option must be exercised by 11 a. m. the following day and an advance of $50,000 paid. Besides, "Dynamite" does not like Kemp's outfit because it employs too many orientals. He is suspicious of Japan's "fishing" activities in Alaskan waters, believing they are charting the coastline. Kemp scoffs at the idea but he is deeply interested when "Dynamite" tells him of a map he made of the coast which enabled him to elude Captain Ramps Reynall fifteen years ago when the latter was after him for seal poaching. "Dynamite" vows no one but Uncle Sam will get the charts out of his hands. The old captain's granddaughter, Sondra, listens with interest to learn as much as she can about the large industry she will control one day. Kemp is in love with Sondra but her thoughts concern her childhood playmate Jean Reynall, whom she has not seen in years. He is the foster son of Jacqueline Reynall, her grandfather's old sweetheart. The romance between "Dynamite" and the daughter of his enemy, Ramps Reynall, terminated abruptly years ago, just before Ramps captured O'More's ship "Glory of the West." The conversation between Kemp and "Dynamite" is interrupted by the unexpected arrival from San Francisco of seductive Lane Bootin, a family friend. Sondra goes to get Lane settled and see Kemp off.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Sondra returned to the sitting room to find her grandfather studying the Bates dock through his marine glasses. "Wonder what that crowd's waiting for," he said. "Can't see a damned thing—except a tug with a tow, roundin' in past Gull Island." Sondra was placing the Captain's memoirs in a cabinet across the room when she was startled by a queer, smothered cry behind her. She turned in quick alarm. Her grandfather had collapsed. His white head was sunk on his chest. One arm hung limp outside his chair. The binoculars had dropped to the rug.

She stood a moment, transfixed by shock that pierced her like a knife. Then she ran and threw her arms about his huddled figure. "Darling! What's happened? What is wrong?"

His stricken eyes lifted to the little model of his first command, splendid in white paint and gilt and spread of tiny sails. One unsteady hand reached out to caress the snowy hull. "The Glory . . ." he said, brokenly. "That's how she was when I had her, Sondy. . . . And now—look at her—down there—on the bay."

Sondra chilled with the fear that he had lost his mind. "No, no, dear. The Glory couldn't be here. You lost her years ago. Don't you remember?"

He brushed one hand wearily across his eyes. "Lost her, aye. But not at sea. Not the way you think. . . . They took her from me. Seized her. Thanks to Jacqueline Reynall. . . . Miss Jacqueline." Sondra sank to her knees and tried to read from his face whether this were further evidence of a wandering mind. He stared through her, his eyes dull with the ache of an ancient hurt. "Not—Miss Jacqueline?"

"Not—Miss Jacqueline?" He nodded. "I've never talked of it, Sondy. It—it bruises me pride even now. I—I had a great wish for her in those days. Then, the last time I had the Glory here in port we quarreled. Hot words, and bitter, before we parted. She turned on me and—betrayed me to her man-huntin' father. 'Twas hard for me to believe it of her; yet, within a month Ramps Reynall had followed me straight into one of me safest hide-outs. On a black night he caught me, with me anchors down and me hold full of fresh-killed seal pelts. He must have had bearin's off me secret charts, to bring his gunboat through those hidden reefs. Bearin's no one had a chance to copy—except myself, and her."

"So that's why you hate her!" Sondra's arms tightened about him. "My poor darling, don't think about it any more. It's all years behind. Finished."

"I thought it was finished fifty years ago, when I stood with empty pockets and watched the Glory auctioned at a government sale. But now—to see her like this, comin' home—She must be passin' below the window, Sondy. Look out. You'll see."

Sondra drew a quivering, despairing breath, but to humor him, went to the window.

There was nothing in sight but a squat tug belching smoke back over a barge it was towing past almost under the window. The barge was long, ugly, scowful with peeling black paint, and splattered with rust from neglected stays and chain-plates. Three dingy stumps protruded a few feet above heaps of short-cut lumber that cluttered the maindeck. Was it possible her grandfather had seen this object as his gallant, white-winged bark that had known the winds and seas and rushing clouds of high, wild latitudes?

A lump in her throat made her voice unsteady as she turned to reassure him. "That's not the Glory, dear. It's just a dirty old barge without even a mast."

"Aye. No masts. Her fine, tall spars of Oregon pine, with never a knot or blemish in all their one hundred and sixty feet—they've lopped 'em down and smeared the poor maimed stumps with oil and lampblack. Can't ye see what they have made of her, Sondy? A filthy, foul-smellin' floating cannery."

Sondra caught up the field glasses and brought the barge close. The name on the bow was too dim for reading, but there was one other detail that would resolve all doubt—the figurehead. On the miniature Glory it was an exquisite little carving—a laughing, golden mermaid with one forward-reaching arm; the very essence of swift grace and guidance. With this in mind, she moved the glasses to the blunted bowsprit of the barge.

The figurehead was there—blackened, broken, yet recognizable. But the gaily outflung arm that had once pointed the Glory's way on the sea was gone.

Slowly she turned, and sitting on the arm of her grandfather's chair, drew his white head against her young breast. She felt too deeply to attempt a word of comfort.

"Ye'll be knowin' the black shame that is on me, Sondy. She never failed me once. But I—I failed her. . . . And because of a woman who —pretended to love me—so, she could copy me secret charts." His voice was dull. His old fighting spirit had vanished. It seemed more than Sondra could bear.

Hoping to take his thoughts from the past, she said, "They're warping the Glory in to the old Bates dock, darling. I think—"

"What's that?" The Captain reared up as if galvanized. "The Bates dock? So that's the answer!" His fist crashed to the table. "The Baranov Packers—a floatin' cannery! They've dared to turn the Glory into a floatin' cannery, and bring her to moorin' under me very nose. They've tricked me into supplyin' the very fish that—Get me my crutches, Sondy. I'm goin' down there and—"

"No, no. You can't—not with your leg in a cast!" Sondra tried to hold him down. He thrust her roughly aside. "Let be, girl!" The blue, fighting light had come back to his eyes. He tried repeatedly to hoist himself upright, but each time his stiffened leg threw him back. He surrendered at last. "Sondy, I can't make it. It's yourself that must go. Find the black-hearted whelp in charge down there, and say I want to see him. Not tonight, not tomorrow, but now, d'ye understand. Tell him if he's not up here in thirty minutes, I'll make him wish he'd never been born! Tell him I'll have his heart out and feed it to the gulls!"

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

By J. E. Pollard, Journalism Professor, Ohio State University

For All Who Run to Read

To say that something is "for all who run to read" means that it is for all the world to see. Since the advent of the automobile, the airplane and streamlined chariots of all kinds, not many persons run any more. But practically every one reads, and the medium universally read is the newspaper.

Not only is it true that practically every American of school age, and above, reads newspapers regularly but he reads them pretty thoroughly. It is often astonishing how many persons see and talk about a small item tucked away in what seems to be an obscure corner of the newspaper. It's not only the big stories that habitually attract the reader's eye.

This is the best possible proof of the effectiveness of the newspaper as a means of communication. This is especially important in connection with the publication of public notices of all kinds required and provided by law. Next to direct personal notice, which not always possible or necessary, the newspaper offers the best means of giving such notice. The chances are, too, that it will be seen there by those it concerns.

Book And Leornians Clubs To Hear Miss Bernice Goetz

Miss Bernice Goetz of Cleveland, who has traveled extensively in South America, returning recently from her last trip, will be the guest speaker at the annual joint meeting of the Book and Leornians clubs May 19.

Announcement of the affair was made at the regular Book club meeting Monday afternoon in the library assembly room by Mrs. Carl Willman, program chairman.

During the business meeting, in charge of Mrs. Frank Brudery, president, Mrs. E. S. Vincent, bulletin-board chairman, called attention to items of interest on the board, including an article on Inter-American Music week in May. Committee reports were heard and one new member, Mrs. T. R. Corrigan, was accepted.

The program on Central America and Mexico, opening with roll call, "Curios from the Americas," included music and several interesting papers.

Musical numbers were a saxophone solo by Miss Jean Lantz, accompanied by Miss Lois Fields; and two vocal solos, "The Lord's Prayer" (Mellott) and "The Solvège Song" (Mellott).

Baptist Guild Members At Akron Rally

Members of the Baptist World Wide guild attended the state convention of the Sally Peck chapter of the guild Saturday in the First Baptist church in Akron.

The Salem group included Deloris Bell, Martha Jane Stirling, Laura Scott, Helen Bowman, Verna Hawn, Jeanette Hutchison, Audrey Welsh and Donna Rose Hepler. The group was accompanied by the counsel, Mrs. F. L. Blevins, and Mrs. George Peterson.

Speakers at the convention included Miss Elsie P. Kappen of New York City, national secretary, who spoke on various phases of guild work and the new theme for the coming year, "Hands Around the World."

Mrs. Leslie Spain of Providence, R. I., member of national Women's Foreign Missionary board, discussed her travels and work in foreign missionary fields.

The girls also attended conferences held by Miss Ruth Davis, Wilmington, O., the state service director, and Miss Betty Wilson, the state director of religious education. Luncheon was served at the church to the 240 girls and counselors present.

Miss Geraldine Geist Is Hostess

The society of the Continental Girls met recently at the home of Miss Geraldine Geist, W. State st. After a short business meeting, quiz games were enjoyed by the members, prizes going to Miss Helen Kennedy and Miss Eleanor Ketch. Lunch was served by the hostess' mother and aunt.

Miss Martha Coulson will entertain the club Thursday evening at her home, 273 W. Second st. Preceding the business meeting the girls will attend the annual High school band concert.

Mark 45th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lippert observed their 45th wedding anniversary at a surprise party arranged by their children last night at their home on the Goshen rd. Thirty guests attended, including the best man and bridesmaid at the wedding 45 years ago. Lunch was served. The couple received a gift from the group.

Damascus Minister To Give Talk

Rev. H. E. Stout of the Damascus Methodist church will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service in the Methodist church here at 8:30 p. m. Thursday. All members are urged to attend.

Pythian Sisters Meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters will be held Thursday at the hall, as planned, but it was announced, the card party planned for that time will be held, instead, at the next meeting, May 1.

Ellsworth Road Club Meets Thursday

Today's Pattern

PRINCESS SUN-FROCK AND BOLERO
Pattern 4739.

Those active outdoor days are just around the corner—greet them blithely with this vivacious young sports outfit. It's an Anne Adams style, Pattern 4739, and as easy on the eyes as it is on the sewing needle. The bolero, which you'll slip on for street wear, ends briefly to show off your little young waistline. Let it have a jaunty sailor collar, or just use neat revers. The dress alone is perfect for tennis and golfing, for its slim, easy-to-do princess lines give unhampered, unbinding freedom. No side placket is necessary with that button or zipper opening just below the sunburst. Star buttons and tie-tie closing make a cheery trim. Here's a perfect "first-try" style—it's so simple!

Pattern 4739 is available in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 13, entire ensemble, takes 4½ yards 35-inch fabric and 1½ yards tie-tie. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly: SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Order the brilliant Anne Adams 1941 Pattern Book today, and get your wardrobe ready for the turn of the fashion season! There's real dress-making fun in satisfaction for you in this collection of unusually simple-to-sew styles for every age and purpose. ### Miss Snyder Bride of John Falzetta

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Dora Snyder, daughter of the late E. C. Snyder, south of Salem, to John Falzetta of Leetonia at 11 a. m. Saturday at St. Paul's Catholic church here.

Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mahan performed the ceremony at which Miss Mildred Schuster and Guy Mauro were attendants.

The bride wore a navy blue crepe street frock with matching accessories and corsage of white roses. Miss Schuster wore a navy blue dress with corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony the couple motored to Pittsburgh for a short visit.

Mrs. Falzetta is employed in the decorating department of the Salem China Co. Mr. Falzetta is employed in Midland, Pa.

The couple making their home with the bride's brother, Bert Snyder, south of Salem, were honored at a dinner Sunday evening given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Yates at their home, south of Salem.

The table was beautifully decorated with a large wedding cake as centerpiece. The evening was enjoyed informally. Guests were from Salem, Youngstown and Leetonia.

Miss Panzetti Is Bride of Nick Colon

Miss Ida Panzetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Panzetti of S. Broadway, was united in marriage to Nick Colon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meady Colon of Lawn ave., Cleveland, at 9 a. m. Saturday in the St. Paul's rectory here by Rev. Fr. Herbert J. Cook.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. William Drakulich, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride was dressed in a cinnamon crepe ensemble with beise accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Drakulich wore a pink crepe ensemble with brown accessories and a corsage of red and pink roses.

A dinner following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. Forty-five guests, from Salem, Cleveland and Pennsylvania were present.

The bride's table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake and decorated with pink snapdragons and pink carnations.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home with her parents, 342 S. Broadway. Mrs. Colon attended St. Paul's Catholic school and Mr. Colon, employee of the Deming Co., attended a Cleveland High school.

Luncheon Is Given for Bride-elect

A luncheon given yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Lape by Mrs. Ralph B. Vance honored Miss Dorothy Astory, fiancée of F. Troy Cope, Jr., whose wedding will be solemnized at 4:30 p. m. Saturday in the Presbyterian church.

Peach blossoms decorated the tables for the luncheon, which was followed by bridge. The group presented the bride-elect a lovely gift.

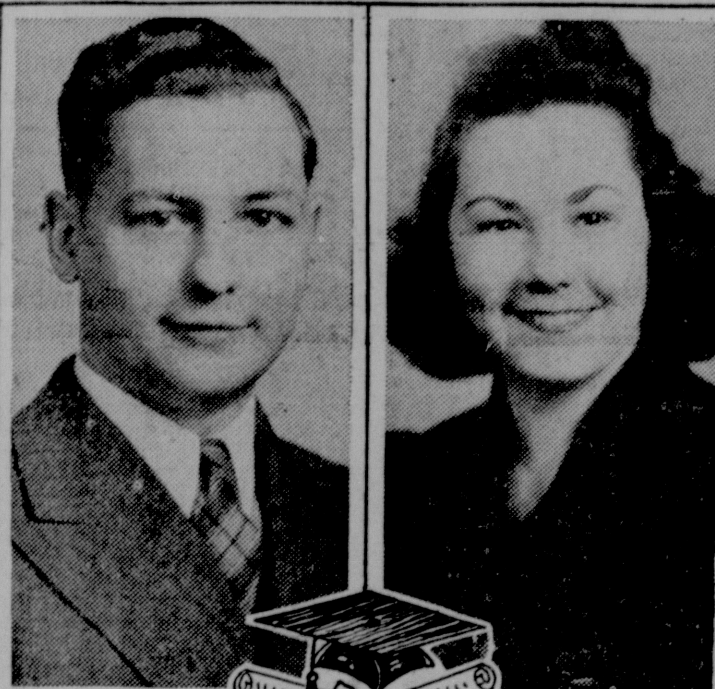

Prizes were won by Mrs. R. S. McCulloch, Mrs. J. W. Astory and Mrs. Ralph Starbuck.

Class Will Meet

Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church will meet at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the church. All members are urged to attend.

Ohio Farmers Asked By U.S. To Boost Pork, Dairy Output

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 22.—Ohio farmers have been asked by the U. S. department of agriculture to step up production of pork, dairy and poultry products immediately. The commodities will be made available to Great Britain, the Red Cross and indigent in this country.
What farmers are being asked to do and how their operations will be affected is explained in the following question and answer summary prepared by the Ohio AAA committee:
Q. What is the plan's purpose?
A. To convert the feed supplies in the ever-normal granary into food supplies.
Q. Will the AAA farm program be changed to meet this need?
A. Yes. Some provisions have been changed so that all farmers will be able to take part in this program for increased feeding operations.
Q. How can we best increase production?
A. By feeding hogs to heavier weights, increasing dairy production by feeding more grain, and stepping up egg production and farm flocks as fast as possible.
Q. Will production increase be needed in the future?
A. Yes, for the immediate future. The secretary of agriculture will look after the farmers' and consumers' interests and make such recommendations as are warranted.
Q. What are the tentative needs?
A. Poultrymen must supply 5,280 million dozen eggs between now and July 1, 1942. Production last year was 3,241 million dozen. A 15 per cent increase in chicks is needed for domestic and foreign demand. Milk production is up 2 to 3 per cent—the highest levels in history. On top of this increase, output must be stepped up 5 to 8 per cent more. More than 250 million pounds of cheese is needed for Britain alone. Pork production must be increased considerably. Farmers are urged to feed all the corn possible to the 1941 pig crop and add 10 to 50 pounds to each hog. Increased fall farrowing is urged.
Q. Should Increase Acreage
Farmers raising tomatoes for canners should increase their acreage about 33 per cent. A similar increase is necessary in dried bean output.
Q. Corn production should not be increased over acreage allotments unless the corn is needed for ensilage for feed. Then some increase may be justified.
Q. Do we have enough corn on hand now for feed?
A. Yes. More than 700 million bushels is stored in the ever-normal granary. In addition, at least an average crop is expected in the fall. The need now is for food—not feed.
Q. Will it be possible for farmers to increase corn production and participate in the AAA farm program and be eligible for payments?
A. Yes. For the grower who may still feel that it is necessary to increase his corn production in order to expand his feeding operations, the corn provisions of the AAA farm program have been revised for the emergency.
Q. Will marketing quotas on the 1941 corn crop be voted upon by farmers?
A. No. Corn marketing quotas have been canceled in order to make more corn available to feeders. There will be no restrictions whatsoever on marketing of 1941 corn.
Q. Will farmers vote on wheat marketing quotas May 31?
A. Yes. For the protection of wheat growers, steps are needed to reduce wheat production just as steps are needed to increase pork and dairy product productions.
Q. How can a farmer participate in this emergency food program and still be eligible for AAA payments?
A. The flexible trile—a corn program has been altered to take care of the new demands for food in this way: Farmers who wish to plant over their corn allotments, up to what is known as their "usual" acreage, may do so and still participate partly in the AAA program. They can do this so long as they do not exceed the total soil-depleting allotment.
Q. What is the "usual" acreage?
A. The "usual" acreage will be 40 per cent over the corn acreage allotment for the farm. As an example: If a farmer has a 20 acre corn allotment, he may plant an additional eight acres and still be eligible for wheat conservation and parity payments and for a soil conservation payment.
Q. Not Eligible for Loan
Q. Is he eligible for a corn loan?
A. No. The farmer who overplants his corn allotment will not receive corn conservation or corn parity payments nor will he be eligible for corn loans. He sacrifices corn payments for the 40 per cent corn acreage increase.
Q. If a farmer increase his corn acreage up to the "usual" acreage, will it be necessary to hold down his plantings of general crops by the amount he explains his corn acreage?
A. Yes. He must reduce his acreage of general crops in the proportion to the number of acres above his allotment.
Q. Can a farmer plant more than his "usual" acreage?
A. He can plant as much corn as he pleases. If he is a cooperator in the farm program, he can go up to his "usual" acreage without suffering loss of wheat or other benefit payments outside corn. If he exceeds the "usual" acreage, deductions from other payments will be made for each acre in excess of the "usual".
Q. What price protection is offered farmers cooperating in the "feed to food" program?
A. To encourage increased feed-

Theatre Attractions

Robert Montgomery and Ingrid Bergman in "Rage in Heaven" at the State Wednesday only.

The James Hilton story, "Rage in Heaven", reaches the screen with Robert Montgomery, Ingrid Bergman and George Sanders in the leading roles. The picture, an engrossing study of human character and behaviour, shows at the State Wednesday only.
Montgomery does some of his finest screen work as the jealous husband of Miss Bergman. Sanders is outstanding as the husband's school friend whose affection for the husband and the wife motivate the dramatic screen novel. The romantic triangle has a new twist in the film.
The cast also includes Lucile Watson, Oscar Homolka, Philip Merivale, Matthew Boulton, Aubrey Mather and Gilbert Emery.
The State's attraction tonight is the technicolor musical, "That Night in Rio", with Don Ameche, Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda and S. Z. Sakall.

Center PTA Will Meet
The Center P-T-A. will hold its regular meeting on Friday evening, April 25.
The program will consist of readings, playlets and special music. Free lunch will be served. Everyone is welcome.

INDIANS WILL CUT 2 MORE HURLERS, ONE OUTFIELDER

Roster Must Be Reduced to Meet 25-Player Limit On May 15

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, April 22.—Some time in the next few days, three Cleveland Indians are going to get the axe.

To meet the American league's May 15 deadline on a 25-man roster, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh will have to cut his outfield and pitching staff.

Gerry Walker, Roy Weatherly, Jeff Heath and Beau Bell are fixtures in the garden and the unlikely fly-chaser will be picked from Charley Workman, Murray Howell and Clarence Campbell. Howell, a veteran, was batting champion of the International league last season and was purchased for pinch-hitting duty.

The two fingers slated to go will come from Joe Kraskas, Cal Dorsett, Ken Jurgens, Nate Andrews and Mike Nymick. The departure of Bill Zuker yesterday left the Indians with veterans Clint Brown, Joe Heying and Harry Eisenstat to back up their "big five" of Bob Feller, Al Milnar, Al Smith, Jim Bagby and Mel Harder.

Milnar was re-nominated to twirl against St. Louis today after rain washed out the opener of a three-game series yesterday. Manager Fred Haney of the Browns also stuck to his pitching choice—submarine-baller Edd Auker.

Vander Meer, Lee Slated To Pitch

CHICAGO, April 22.—If the weather behaves, the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs will play at Wrigley field today.

Yesterday's schedule opener in a three-game series was called off. The temperature at game time was 41 and an overcast sky leaked occasionally.

Both managers indicated they'd stick by their earlier choices of pitchers. Johnny Vander Meer, who's on the comeback trail, opposes General Bill Lee, who ended a 44-day hold-out in time to miss all the Cubs' spring training.

BOWLING RESULTS

Fernengel Colts won the championship in the American league last night by taking three straight from the runner-up Fitzpatrick Service five on the Masonic alleys.

It was a postponed match which determined first and second places. Although Fernengels have one more postponed match, with the Electric Furnace, they can lose all three of those games and still retain first place.

Throughout the season it has been a close battle between Fernengels and Fitzpatrick, the latter having held first place for a few weeks. The American Laundry, showing marked improvement in the last few weeks, moved all the way from cellar position to third place as the league season closed.

Although not high in the total because of a poor third game, H. DeRienzo rolled 200 and 222 in his first two games last night.

In the Quaker City league at the Grate alleys no changes in top positions resulted from last night's bowling. Allhouse Motors, the leaders, won two from the Lane Hotel, Jim Armstrong contributing a 206.

The Moose dropped two to Burt Capels five, and Coy Buicks took three from the Masons. In his second game Jim England piled up a 246 for a 699 total.

Bill Hull had one game of 207 and George Mitchell a 231 to help the Golden Eagle five take two from Flooding-Reynard. On the latter team Dick Albright had 200 and Dan Miller 245.

Colonial Finance took two from Salem Motors, Chuck Huffer marking up a 218. C. B. Hunt five won two from the Bachelors.

Sports Writers Plan Shoot; Regular Marksmen Warned

By FRITZ HOWELL COLUMBUS, April 22.—A friendly warning to one and all—stay away from Vandall's Grand American trapshooting grounds Aug. 18, 1941!

The reason: The Amateur Trapshooting association has a 50-Kilne event, limited to sports writers, as the opening feature on this year's "roaring grand" program.

The "Sportswriters' Special" has been divided into two classes—one for those who have never fired at a clay target, and one for those who have never fired a gun. Practically the entire field falls in the latter category, so most anything can happen.

This is the second attempt of the A. T. A. to give the scribes a chance at the flying clays. The first—in 1934—came to a quick and untimely end.

Seven years ago a dozen type-setters, armed with borrowed guns and donated ammunition, lined up on the traps for the first of the "writers only" events. Stan Witwer, then of the Dayton Journal and now of the St. Petersburg, Fla. Times, was the No. 1 peg of the No. 1 trap.

Like the rest of the field, Stan had never fired a shotgun. Grouped behind the trap were hundreds of the nation's top-flight marksmen, ready to give the "bird" to the nervous new-shawks.

But Witwer fooled 'em! With his first shot he set a record which probably will stand for all time, by breaking close to 200 clay targets.

Here's how he did it. He shoved a 12-gauge shell into his borrowed shotgun, glanced nervously at the trap and stammered the call to "pull!"

The clay target soared out at a left angle. Stan closed both eyes and pulled the trigger. The target skimmed along untouched, but the full charge of No. 6 shot struck a box of clays resting beside the trap, breaking practically all of them. The charge struck some 80 feet from where Witwer should have aimed.

Ray Loring, A. T. A. manager who was scoring the match, called a halt. "The rest of the field," he said, "is not to be a shot, and the first and only newsmen's shoot was a matter of history."

Now the A. T. A. officials have recovered their nerve and will try again. But Vandall is a nice place not to be that morning.

Lorin said that in addition to the sportswriters' shoot, a "champion of champions" race for women state titleholders will be inaugurated this year. The feminine stars will fire in a special event, 100 targets at 16 yards.

The two new contests, along with the fact that $1,500 more in added prize money and a new flock of trophies will be awarded, make the 1941 "Grand" look as the best in history. Loring said that total prizes in the big event will run around $55,000, he estimated.

Preliminary day shoots are booked Aug. 15-17, with the "Grand" getting under way Aug. 18 and running through Aug. 22.

EARLE SANDE TO BE HONORED BY GUILD

(By Associated Press) BALTIMORE, April 22.—Earle Sande, whose riding feats made racing history a few years ago, was singled out by the jockey's community fund and guild today as the jockey who has done the most to honor his profession.

The little guy, who booted home three Kentucky derby winners and was considered tops in the hazardous riding game before he turned trainer, will be honored for his "fairness and sportsmanship" at a testimonial dinner to be given by the jockey's guild following the Preakness at Pimlico, May 10.

The dinner was arranged by a committee consisting of Irving Anderson, Sam Renick, Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Gilbert, Harry Richards, Leon Haas, Don Meade and Alfred Robertson. Anderson is chairman and Renick will be master of ceremonies. Richard is president of the guild.

"In selecting Sande," said the committee, "the directors considered that he, besides being one of the outstanding riders of this generation, has also shown himself by his display of fairness and true sportsmanship, to be worthy of the honor that is to be bestowed upon him."

Jockey Tied to Horse

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Cherub-faced Jackie Skelly, who goes east this week to ride for the Brandywine stable, took a farewell auto trip with Jimmy Sinnott and the latter's two young daughters.

The girls insisted Jackie accompany them to a pony ring, so he got into the saddle and started off at a trot.

"Hey," howled the operator, "that pony will throw you, kid. Wait 'till I strap you on."

Jackie, 17 and weighing a mere 95 pounds, solemnly let himself be strapped to the saddle.

"Aw rosh," he explained to the laughing Sinnott, "you didn't want me to hurt his feelings, did you?"

Mean Passenger

PETERBURG, Ind.—For three days Garageman Charles Carlisle, helping put up a fence on his farm, has been carrying around a seven-foot iron casing to measure post holes.

Somebody asked him what he had in the casing. He took it off his shoulder and looked inside, and there was a snake five and a half feet long, alive and hissing. Carlisle killed it.

Persons who want anything, know The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, April 22.—(Special New Service).—Watch for some old familiar faces to pop up in the majors. Stars of yesteryear are busy dishing their chances of being called back to replace guys who may be called to the colors.

That book on the "T" formation George Halas, Clark Shaughnessy and Ralph Jones are authoring for summer publication will contain more than 50 diagramed plays. . . . Falling to land Billy Herman, the Dodgers have done the next best thing and wired the Louisville lumber yards for several dozen "Billy Herman" bats. . . . Pepper Martin is wowing 'em on the coast. In the first six home games, his Sacramento team drew 24,080 customers, compared with 92,000 for all home games last season.

Wishful Thinking

When three of the Athletics—Chubby Dean, Bob Johnson and Wally Moses—stood behind the batting cage the other day, their numbers read, left to right, "19-4-1." Connie Mack smiled wistfully and said, "Maybe this is my year, after all."

Busy Man's Newspaper

Big golf was brewing in Kansas City, where the Milburn club has lined up four teams—the Dutch, Swedes, Irish and Scotch. . . . Add derby odds: Right behind our Boots, the current favorite, come Porter's Cap, King Cole and Whirlaway at 4-1. Dispose of 6-1. Robert Morris, who started out at 200-1, has been slashed from 40-1 to 10-1. Curious Coin, Little Beans and Blue Pair, 20-1. . . . Turn-Back-the-Clock Dept.: Benny Leonard is scheduling Ritchie Mitchell in Milwaukee, Charley White in Chicago, Rocky Kansas in Buffalo, and Johnny Dundee in New Haven, all former opponents, for three-round exhibitions.

The Brooklyn band at the Polo grounds Sunday played "Three Blind Mice" when the umpires appeared.

Today's Guest Star

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Doc Prothro was glad to get the Phils out of town. . . . The fans in the other National league cities, we fear, will not be feeling the same way about them."

Who Goes On?

Ample Simon goes on the air (WQXR) next Tuesday night to discuss — of all things — classical music. . . . Ginny Simms, the Kay Kyser songbird, has just received an honorary "T" from Texas Christian, she being a cousin of Connie and Nolan Sparks, two of the Horned Frogs' most notable footballers. . . . Mose Simms, now dickering with one of the big radio chains, admits his showmanship at St. Mary's (Texas) lost $100,000 over a six-year stretch. . . . All four of Bill McKee's children are choir singers, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill used to be — Stan Frank, who has been covering the Yankees, takes over Jack Milley's column in the N. Y. Post. . . . Lady with the red face is Emma Lafreniere, the song writer, who dedicated her latest, "Doghouse Polka," to Bill Terry.

Names If Names

Tufts has a shortstop named Boston. . . . Yale plays regularly for Holstra, and George Washington has a pitcher named Homer who, oddly enough, can't get going on the road.

Business Note

Bob Quinn and friends will buy the Bees. For something like Four hundred G's.

Fatal Wager

CREVE COEUR, Ill.—Carl Leslie Stallings bet $2 with his friend, Lyle Hyenman, that he could swim across the Illinois river.

Hyenman accepted the wager, stood on the bank and watched Stallings plunge in. Half way across he sank. Hyenman was one of those who aided in the hunt for his friend's body.

Clipped

BUCYRUS, Kas.—A jar sent a load of heavy sheet steel splintering through the sides of a Missouri Pacific gondola.

Seventeen miles and $7,000 worth of damaged trackside signal equipment later, a station agent flagged down the train.

Feats Of Ferrell And Ott Indicate Another Big Year For Veterans

Wes Pitches Bees to 8-1 Win Over Phillies; Ott Ties For Home Run Lead, Sparks Giants; Harder, Gomez, Blanton Look Good

By JUDSON BAILEY

This is going to be another "comeback year" for many old guilts shown little respect for age or service in the big leagues last season. Somehow, a handful of these fellows find the fountain of youth every season. Jimmy Wilson, Johnny Cooney, Fred Fitzsimmons and other prominent veterans hit the trail last year, and another group apparently is on the right track this spring.

The only big show pitcher who has scored two victories in the season's first week is Wesley Cheek Ferrell, 33-year-old righthander who was counted out of the American league over a year ago and couldn't make the grade in the national last season.

The Boston Bees signed him up during the winter, and he looks like he will stick around the Hub awhile, if only to pith against the Phillies. He received credit for a victory over them last Thursday by pitching three shutout innings in relief.

The rush of the Boston Red Sox finally was stopped at Washington yesterday by the lowly Senators, who burst out with four runs in the seventh inning and staggered to a 6-5 victory. Steve Supina, whom the Senators recently purchased from the Yanks, was named for 11 hits, but received fine support in the pinches, and his teammates ripped three Boston hurlers for a dozen safeties. Cecil Travis accounted for four of them—two doubles and two singles.

The Sox had won five straight previously, and even in defeat held onto their American league lead. The New York Yankees made hash out of the Philadelphia Athletics again with a 17-4 victory. Joe DiMaggio hit a home run, a double and two singles, and every other member except Pitcher Alcy Donald got at least one safety. Alcy Gordon also accounted for a homer.

Donald gave up four runs and five hits, two of them homers by Frank Hayes and Wally Moses, in the first four innings. But he didn't allow a hit in the last five stanzas.

Rain and cold weather put off contests scheduled for the western clubs.

So He Hits Four Homers

But he has hit four home runs—tying Joe DiMaggio and Bob Doerr for the major league lead—and sparked his Giants to six victories in seven games to keep them at the top of the National league heap.

His fourth homer came during yesterday's 7-5 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers before a big Monday turnout of 17,910 at the Polo grounds. Bump Hadley, who will be 37 years old in a couple of months, pitched six innings for the winners and left the game in the lead.

The Dodgers subsequently tied the score, and young John Wittig got credit for the victory. The Giants' victim for the second time in a week was Kirby Higbe, who beat them five times for the Phils last year.

DEATHS

JOHN SENIOR

John Senior, 74, farmer and coal mine operator, died at his home near New Kensington yesterday of a heart ailment.

Born in Pittsburgh Feb. 2, 1867, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Senior, he had spent practically all his life in the vicinity of Kensington.

Surviving are a brother, Edward Senior, East Rochester, and three sisters, Miss Anna Senior of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Emma George of Carrollton and Miss Ella Manfull of Kensington.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Maple funeral home in Kensington in charge of Rev. R. A. Marty, former pastor of the Methodist church there. Burial will be in the Augusta cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

Persons who want anything, know The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Leetonia Prepares For Clean-Up Week

LEETONIA, April 22.—The village has designated the week of April 28 to May 3 as Clean-up week.

The village truck will start on the rounds Tuesday morning, April 29, and continue throughout the remainder of the week, collecting trash that has been put in boxes, cartons or containers and set at the curb. No ashes or garbage are to be put in these containers.

Firemen were called to the Jacob Esenko farm Monday at 10:30 a. m. A one-story building was destroyed by fire.

Leetonia High school's baseball team, in charge of Coach Charles Mathers, has scheduled the following games: April 22, Greenford there; April 25, Goshen here; April 29, Youngstown Chaney there; May 2, Greenford here; May 6, Goshen there.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray entertained at their home Saturday evening for their brother, Harold Gray, who left Monday to be inducted into the United States army.

out birth certificates, can obtain these documents from their probate court by supplying essential information.

The senate also adopted a resolution endorsing the movement to feed starving residents of conquered countries, and expunged from its record a resolution by Sen. Joseph Jameson (R-Lorain) requesting an investigation of alleged errors in the senate journal. Members of the health committee, whose proceedings were involved in the "errors," said they were honest mistakes.

Protest, Rubbish Bill
A bill prohibiting anyone from throwing rubbish or garbage on or beside a state highway was approved by the house and sent to the senate. Several members protested because the maximum penalty of a $50 fine and 30 days in jail would apply to the discarding of such refuse as pebbles, paper, bottles, glass and oil.

In another bill, passed by the house, the state highway director would be authorized to spend $200,000 a year for elimination of dust on county and secondary roads.

Meanwhile, the senate finance committee strove to complete work on the $351,800,000 biennial appropriation bill today so that it could be brought up for a vote this week.

The committee increased the measure by $160,000, including $60,000 for a senate elevator, rug and air conditioning. The allocation for combatting Bang's disease in cattle was cut from $350,000 to $135,000.

Baseball Picture Seen By Rotarians

COLUMBIANA, April 22.—Columbian Rotarians, at their Monday evening meeting at Valley Golf club, enjoyed the 1941 edition of the American League baseball pictures, in charge of Jack Lutz and Frank Knisely, Youngstown.

President-elect P. R. Corey, the club's delegate to the annual conference of the 158th Rotary district in session at Akron, gave a brief report of Monday's activities. Others in attendance Monday were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herrman, Mr. and Mrs. Wick Fry and Mrs. Isaiah Mowen. The birthday of Evan Roller was honored, Rev. J. C. Strubel making the presentation of gifts. H. A. Tuttle, Youngstown, was a visitor.

Columbian Music Study club members will meet at the Grace Reformed church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday for the final meeting of the year. This meeting will be a rehearsal for the annual concert which will be given in the Grace church Sunday evening, May 4.

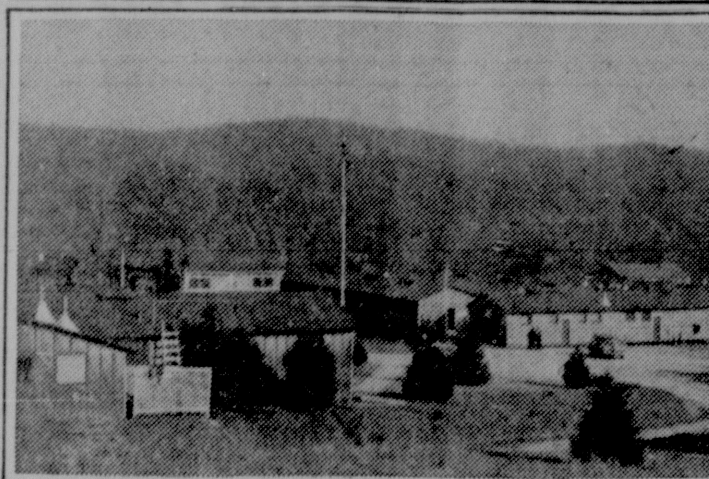

Allen Lodge F. and A. M. will meet in the lodge rooms this evening and Friday evening. Degree work will be conferred both nights and lunch will be served following the meeting Friday evening. All Masons are urged to attend.

The Senior and Junior Girl Reserves of Columbian High school are invited to attend a Girl Reserve dance at Lisbon Friday evening.

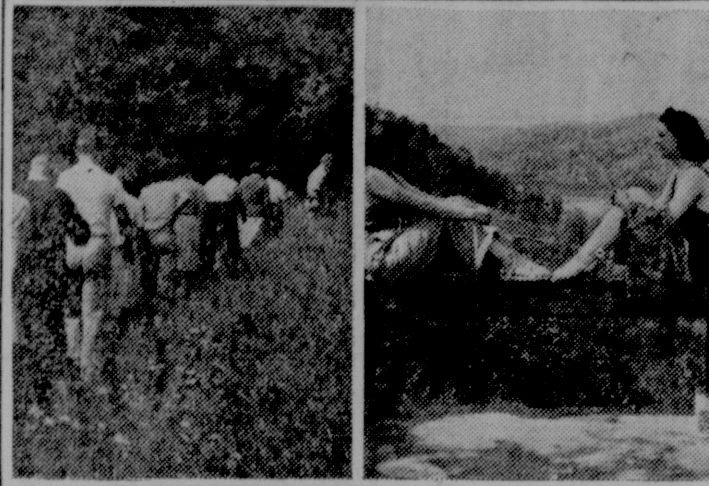

Herbert C. Nolan spent Monday and Tuesday in Columbus on business.

Mrs. Kenneth Ferra entertained associate members of the Queen Esther class of the Grace Reformed church at her home. Following the business meeting a social time and lunch was enjoyed.

Summer School in the Forest

SITE OF CONSERVATION LABORATORY

ON A NATURE TRAIL

A summer Conservation Laboratory with "A Defense Program for Tomorrow's America" as its aim will be held in the Zaleski State Forest, Vinton County, from June 16 to July 23.

The course for Ohio teachers is sponsored by the State Department of Education, the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources, and Ohio State University. Four other state universities—Kent, Miami, Ohio, and Bowling Green—are cooperating in acceptance of credits.

AFTER CLASS HOURS

This "School in the Forest," hailed nationally as an outstanding advance in conservation, is directed by O. E. Pink, curriculum supervisor for conservation education, State Department of Education, Columbus. Enrollment will be limited to 100 men and women.

Students will spend the full five weeks in the forest of 23,000 acres, studying earth science, botany, zoology, and social science of the region under a corps of experts.

For recreation the enrollees will have their choice of boating, bathing, fishing, tennis, and hiking.

JAPAN EMPHASIZES PEACE OBJECTIVES

TOKYO, April 22.—Japan's "three achievements within six months" should convince the United States that her intentions are strictly peaceful, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka told newspapermen today on his return from conversations in Berlin, Rome and Moscow.

He listed these achievements as the three-power pact among Germany, Italy and Japan, Japanese recognition of the Nanking regime as the "basic government" of China, and the recently signed Soviet-Japanese neutrality pact.

However, in answer to a question whether Japan contemplated a non-aggression pact with the United States he replied: "I do not know."

The Soviet-Japanese pact does not affect the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo agreement, and there has been "no misunderstanding or misapprehension among the three Allied governments" regarding it, he said.

STORM DESTROYS HARTVILLE CROPS

CANTON, April 22.—Early crops in the famous Hartville swamp north of here were destroyed late Monday in a freakish windstorm which swept the dust dry gardens and scattered rich muck topsoil over a 30-mile area.

Loss from the storm, worst in the swamp's 65-year history, was estimated at $100,000 as the gale carried away plants, seeds, fertilizer and soil. The swirling dust raised a haze obscuring the sun as far away as Ravenna.

The storm was followed by a light frost in the area as the mercury dipped to 32 but orchardists and growers do not believe damage was severe.

Warren Lady Reaps Splendid Results From Ton Jon

States That She Endured Much Grievous Suffering From Liver and Gall Bladder Trouble. Bothered With Many Distressful Stomach Disorders. TON JON Has Done Her a World of Good. Tells Amazing Facts to Public.

"TON JON No. 2 is the only thing I have ever found that has given me relief from my harassing troubles," says Mrs. Francis Villers, of Leavittsburg, Ohio, Box 19, near Warren and a member of the Spiritualist Church.

"I suffered from terrible pains in the region of my liver and gall bladder. I would often become so dizzy that I would see dozens of little spots floating before my eyes. My appetite was poor and what I did force myself to eat caused much miserable suffering. Gas would form abundantly in my stomach and severe attacks of indigestion were common. Agonizing cramps omented me and food would sour and lay heavy in my stomach. Muscular aches and pains developed throughout my body. My bowels were so sluggish that I had to take harsh laxative every night. Many times I have had to go to bed with sick headache. Every little noise bothered me as I was so nervous and irritable.

"Although I haven't taken TON JON very long, the results are amazing. I never have to take a laxative anymore and I can eat without the fear of after distress. My nerves are calm; I enjoy much better sleep and those dreadful headaches are merely a thing of the past. TON JON has done me unlimited good and I honestly believe that anyone who gives it a fair trial will reap the same benefits that I have."

Give these Wonder Medicines—TON JON 1-2-3, a chance to help you, too. The TON JON Health Representative invites you to visit him personally at Broadway-Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

INCOME TAX BOOST COVERS BIG SCOPE

Little and Big Alike Will Have To Pay Double Or Triple

the federal tax 2½ cents per gallon. CIGARETTES—8 cents tax on a pack of 20, a 1½ cent boost.

OTHER ITEMS—Increases in beer, wine, whisky and automobile purchase taxes. New levies on candy, chewing gum, soft drinks.

FEDERAL SECURITIES—A plan to reach with taxation all or part of the income from the billions of dollars invested in hitherto tax exempt government bonds.

An advance in the basic income tax rate of 6.6 per cent and repeal of the earned income credit would hit taxpayers' pockets something like this:

A single person with a taxable earned income of $1,000 after all deductions except his personal exemption of $800 would pay $13.20, instead of $4.40 as at present.

A childless married couple with a taxable earned income of $3,000 would pay $66, instead of $30.80.

The new surtax schedule, details of which were not available, was reported to mean stiff increases for higher income, particularly in the brackets between $5,000 and $25,000.

The detailed treasury proposal was submitted to the house ways and means committee at a closed meeting yesterday but Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) declined to give it out. Details will be disclosed, probably later this week, by Secretary Morgenthau, Doughton said.

Doughton's refusal to give out the plan brought a statement from Rep. Treadway (R., Mass.) that Republican committee members were opposed to "secrecy." Treadway added that the Republicans would demand that Morgenthau be summoned at once and the plan publicized.

Hits Waterway Project

CHICAGO, April 22.—Addressing the Western Railway club, Donald D. Conn, executive vice president of the Transportation Association of America, asserted last night that the St. Lawrence waterway project had "no national defense significance and would affect injuriously over 90 per cent of the area of the country." He also said that agriculture would be met with "ruinous competition from the outside world."

Sentenced to Prison

John C. Maas

After pleading guilty to a charge of slaying his wife, Nadyne, on a Louisville, Ky., street because, he said, she would not bear him any children, John C. Maas, 44-year-old swimming pool owner, hears a judge sentence him to concurrent prison terms of 21 and five years. The shooting took place some time ago.

ntly being established in the rugged Lokris mountains, below the flat plain of Thessaly. Lamie lies south of the Othrys mountains, where it was believed that the Allies had previously decided to make a stand.

Italian dispatches had pictured the British-Greek line as stretching from Lamia to Arta, across the upper middle of the Cretean peninsula. Arta lies 25 miles inland from the Ionian sea, 38 miles south of Ioannina.

The Nazi high command asserted that German panzer columns sweeping westward across the Pindus mountains to Ioannina had effectively blocked the Greeks' main route of retreat to the south.

Premier Mussolini's high command said Italian legions were advancing into Greece along the entire Albanian front.

Fascist dispatches from the fighting zones said that the Greeks were resisting violently as they retreated, and that while Italian infantry moved down the valleys, Alpine assault troops had to scale steep mountainsides under fire from machine-gun nests to drive out the Greeks.

AUGUSTA, Me.—Baby Charles Forbes Flagg, 2d, son of state representative, received his name by legislative decree. Informed of his birth, the house adopted an order stipulating that he be named for his father. Rep. Flagg obeyed.
